Summary

With an extensive career in fashion/portraiture, industrial and commercial advertising, Gerard Yunker has been working as a professional photographer throughout North America since 1986. His fascination with light, feeling, and emotion has culminated into an impressive body of work that allows him to "bring out the best in people". His methodology for creating effective images is simple: that they are universal, and must always retain an intrinsically genuine sense of reality. Amongst his strong commitment to his profession, a tremendous attention to detail, and the technical aptitude to exceed the expectations of his clients, Yunker has, and will continue to devote his life to creating expressive images for the world to see."
